Black Feline Jumps Overboard From Reporter Which Sails on Friday and Approaches Port on Thirteenth.

San Francisco, March 14.—The trim three-masted schooner Reporter, lumber-laden and six days from Grays Harbor, went ashore yesterday morning about 4 o'clock on the beach a half-mile below the Villa Miramar, or a mile below the Cliff House. She lies scarce a hundred yards out from low tide mark, her back broken and fast digging her own grave in the sand alongside the bones of the King Philip, whose ribs still are seen, like gravestones marking the resting place of that good ship.

The Reporter sailed from Grays Harbor on Friday. An hour before she had anchored a black cat, the pet of the crew, leaped overboard and was drowned. The schooner neared port on the 12th, and small wonder, say the sailors, that she took the bit in her teeth and tried to make harbor overland. Even the magic of her name could not save her from such a combination of hoodoos.

"When the cat saw the crew making ready to sail on Friday," says John Pokanig, the cook, "the poor thing committed suicide. It was a black cat, too. I'm only a cook—they say I'm not a sailor at all—but I knowed things looked bad. They were all talkin' of our fine record run down, but when last night they said we'd make port today, the 13th, I said to me pots, said I, 'I'm sorry, my lads, you're a good lot, but before mornin' you're like to be bangin' together on the galley deck with fathoms of salt water above you.'"

Earthquakes Ruin Towns in Asia Minor

Vienna, March 13.—A dispatch to the Neue Freie Presse from Constantinople today announced that the town of Kyankari, northeast of Angora, in Asia Minor, was destroyed by an earthquake March 12. No details of the disaster have been received. Kyankari had 20,000 inhabitants.

Constantinople, March 13.—The town of Tchengeri, in the province of Kastamouni, Asia Minor, was totally destroyed by an earthquake March 8. Four persons were killed and a hundred were injured.

Big Boston Strike Has Been Broken

Boston, March 13.—Through the united efforts of representatives of the great mercantile bodies of the city, seconded by the chief executives of the city in conference with the recognized leaders of organized labor, the great strike of freight handlers and kindred trades represented in the Allied Freight Transportation Council was broken tonight. Fully 20,000 men, who have been idle for four days, will go to work in the morning.

This result was attained at a conference this evening at the office of Governor Crane. The decision was at once reported to the Allied Freight Transportation Council at a special meeting tonight and unanimously endorsed.

William Wants To Talk to Henry

Berlin, March 13.—Emperor William, on board the battleship Wilhelm II, and accompanied by two or three other warships, may meet the North German Lloyd steamer Deutschland at sea and transship Prince Henry to the German warship.

This report has reached the American embassy here. The members of Emperor William's suite, however, declare these arrangements to be uncertain. It is thought that the Emperor wishes to have the first long talk with Prince Henry and that this can be most comfortably obtained before the latter lands.

CONDUCT OF WAR ON LAND AND SEA

Senate of United States Ratifies the Hague Agreement.

TELLER QUESTIONS THE CAPTURE OF AGUINALDO

Senator Hoar Believes Adoption of the Treaty Will Tend Toward Elevating All Modern Warfare.

Washington, Mar. 14.—The Senate spent an hour in executive session today on the convention growing out of The Hague peace conference relating to the conduct of war on land and sea, and finally ratified the agreement without a division. The discussion turned directly on the conduct of the war in the Philippines and related especially to General Funston's capture of Aguinaldo. Senator Teller inquired whether, if this treaty had been in force at the time, the method of Aguinaldo's capture could have been justified. He quoted the provision of the treaty relating to the conduct of spies and said that he did not mean himself to say that General Funston's course would have been regular, but merely to secure the opinion of Senators who had given attention to the treaty and who were also familiar with the details of Aguinaldo's capture.

Senator Burton replied to the inquiry, speaking especially for General Funston, and said that he was sure the proceedings on the general's part had been not only humane, but that they had been in accordance with the rules of civilized warfare. It was true, he said, that General Funston and his force had acted somewhat in the capacity of spies, but what they had done had been in the line of honorable warfare.

Senator Hoar also spoke at some length regarding this provision in the treaty. He referred to Aguinaldo's capture and said that he believed the adoption of the treaty would have a tendency toward elevating the conduct of modern warfare.

Some of the members of the Committee on Foreign Relations said recently that the ratification of this treaty would place this country in accord with the highest thought of the times, and expressed the hope that the treaty would receive the unanimous support of the Senate. Those who raised questions apropos of the discussion disclaimed any intention to prevent favorable action.

KING WAS WARNED

EDWARD ABANDONS HIS INTENDED TRIP TO ERIN

Lord Lieutenant of Ireland Says After Full Consideration That the Present Time Is Not Favorable.

Dublin, March 14.—In an address delivered at a public meeting here Earl Cadogan, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, made a rather enigmatic reference to King Edward's abandoned visit to Ireland.

After declaring that nobody was more disappointed in this matter than the King himself, with whom the idea of this visit had originated, and after expressing his own conviction that his Majesty would have been most enthusiastically welcomed here, Earl Cadogan said he shared the full responsibility with the other Ministers for advising the King that the present was not an appropriate occasion for a visit and that this advice was given after the fullest consideration.

The speaker said he refrained from characterizing the difficulties which had rendered the abandoned visit inopportune, but that they were well known and deplored by a vast majority of the Irish people. Earl Cadogan said he was quite sure these difficulties were only of a temporary character, and that before long his Majesty would be able to carry out his wish, which was very near his heart and the realization of which would be productive of the greatest possible advantage to Ireland.

PHILIPPINE FRIARS

MGR. SHARETTI WILL CONFER WITH ROOT
War Department Awaits the Arrival of Delegate from the Pope to Learn Particulars of His Duties.

Washington, Mar. 14.—All communications between the Vatican authorities and the Government regarding the friar question in the Philippines have been made independently of the apostolic delegation in this city. No instructions or communications whatever on the subject have reached here for Mgr. Sharetti, now en route from Naples, and who, according to cable dispatches, has been directed to proceed here and await instructions from Rome before going further into the Philippine issue.

The apostolic delegation here, according to authoritative information, has never been communicated with by Rome on Cuban or Porto Rican matters, except in one instance. That was when the Vatican wired the delegation that "it had been determined to send a high ecclesiastic who had the confidence of the Americans to take charge of the affairs of the church in Cuba and Porto Rico and possibly later in the Philippines."

This announcement, which referred to Mgr. Chapelle's appointment, did not even mention his name. The object of this silence is not known, though it is assumed to be based on a desire to preclude any allegation in the future that the delegation has ever sought to interfere in any manner with this Government and its policies.

Catholic authorities here are understood to have received assurances that Mgr. Sharetti is shortly expected at the War Department to discuss the friar question, but no word has been received by Cardinal Marini regarding Mgr. Sharetti, and nothing is known as to what duties have been or will be entrusted to him.

Colombians Break Through Rebel Lines

Panama, March 14.—The Government generals, Castro and Ortiz, arrived here at 11 o'clock this morning and received one of the most enthusiastic welcomes ever witnessed in Panama. The crowds in the streets leading to the railroad station made traffic impossible.

Referring to the engagement at Agua Dulce February 20, General Castro told the correspondents that the Government troops, numbering 800 men, were attacked by 3000 revolutionists. On the third day of the fighting both drinking water and ammunition in Agua Dulce became scarce and General Castro ordered his troops to retreat. To do this the Government forces had to break through the rebel lines.

General Castro says he knows positively that of the forces under the revolutionary general, Herrera, over 700 were killed or wounded. He characterized the bravery of the revolutionists as something extraordinary, and said that many of them were killed within three feet of the entrenchments.

King Edward Is Scored in Council

London, Mar. 13.—During the discussion before the Batterssea Borough Council last evening of the proposal to make an appropriation for public entertainments in commemoration of the coronation of King Edward, two of the Councilors, who strongly opposed a celebration of the coronation said the King was merely a figurehead and that it did not matter to the people of Batterssea what individual occupied the throne. They ridiculed the idea that the name of the King should be mentioned with bated breath.

The remarks of the two Councilors were hissed and the audience cheered the response of a Conservative Councilor who said:

"Traitors to the King ought to be shot dead."

The proposal for an appropriation was passed.

Nicaragua Canal Bill in Senate

Washington, Mar. 13.—Important developments have cleared away the diplomatic obstructions to the Hepburn canal bill, which passed the House, and Senator Morgan favorably reported it to the Senate today without amendment. The bill is now on the Senate calendar and its chances of being brought to a vote during the present session are said by its friends to be better than ever. Just before the final vote in the Committee on Inter-oceanic Canals was taken Senator Morgan made an important statement, as the direct result of a conference at the State Department with Secretary Hay, relating to the attitude of Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Colombia. Morgan was instructed by the committee to confer with Secretary Hay concerning certain points in the diplomatic negotiations, and his statement to the committee, approved by the Secretary, leaves the way clear for the bill so far as our diplomatic relations with the Central American countries are concerned.
